I am an award winning fine art photographer focusing on psychological storytelling through staged narrative photography. My works were selected for the Lucie Award Scholarship by the Lucie Foundation and American Photographic Artists; Aesthetica Magazine has mentioned me as one of the very influential female photographers. I have received several prestigious photography awards internationally, and been featured in numerous solo and group exhibition nationally and internationally. Besides being a freelance photographer, I am currently working on my next art projects in Budapest as a member of the Budapest Art Factory non-profit artistic collective.
